Vegascreen®

Excellent sun protecting technique to serve your comfort

Vegascreen®

Description

Vegascreen helps to achieve a healthy indoor in your conservatory. This veranda sun protecting screen blocks the sunbeams before they reach the glass. RENSON® Healthy Veranda Concept, a combination of an outdoor sun protecting screen and ventilation, creates a comfortable living environment in your conservatory, regardless of its orientation. With its elegant slim box, Vegascreen perfectly suits the latest glass construction techniques and is an ideal match with all architectural styles.

Product

- New design provided with a renowned tension system
- Because the sides of the end cap & side channel are in the same place, a perfect fit is ensured
- Simple and quick assembly using stable installation sockets (available in various heights)
- Minimal box height is ideal in difficult assembly conditions, e.g. ideal for assembly under eaves
- Soltis polyester fabric available in a very wide range of colours
- Can be combined with Soltis or acrylic fabrics with a high sun protection coefficient
- Soltis 86/92: no minimal angle of inclination
- Profiles available in all RAL colours

Applications

- Applicable with all inclined glazing panels such as verandas, pergola and winter gardens
- Suitable for new construction and renovation
- Vegascreen is also suitable for construction projects, which are very demanding for sunprotection. For the best results we recommend to consult the construction designer, the project developer and the sun protection supplier at an early stage.
